Rule of Life

Do not be egotistical or self-absorbed.

Weep over the pain of this world.

Be gentle, tender and kind.

Wake up wanting to be a better person.

Show mercy to others.

Be sincere, genuine and real.

Work for the cause of peace.

People should notice that you are different, in a good way.

Let go of your anger toward others.

If you don't have anything nice to say, don't say anything.

Reconciliation is more important than going to church.

Try to resolve conflicts face to face.

Do not sexually objectify others.

Honor, and do not easily break, your marital vows.

Live with integrity and be true to your word.

Practice non-violence.

Give and serve generously.

Love your enemies and pray for them.

In practicing your faith you should look religionless to the world.

Keep your prayers short.

Forgive.

Do not be materialistic.

Let go of worry.

Stop judging others and take a hard, honest look at yourself.

Guard your heart around the callous, hostile and brutal.

Ask, seek and knock trusting in God to care for you.

Don't follow the spirituality of the crowd.

The way of the Kingdom will never be a fad.

What you practice reveals what you actually believe.

Obedience is where it all starts.

This isn't an academic exercise.

This shall be your Rule of Life.

Wednesday, July 11: No Bible classes.

Please keep our children in your prayers this week while we are at Timber Creek Camp. We will be studying John 15:5
